28 November 2026

Dear _____,

The Association of Asia-Pacific Operational Research Societies (APORS) conference, APORS 2027, will be held in Perth, Western Australia on 15–18 November 2027. The conference is hosted by the Australian Society for Operations Research (ASOR) and brings together researchers, practitioners and students in operational research from across the Asia-Pacific region and beyond to present their work, exchange ideas and build collaborations across APORS member societies. The Technical Program Committee is chaired by Simon Dunstall (CSIRO Data61) and the Local Organizing Committee by Fang Liu (University of Western Australia).

Conference theme: Smart, Sustainable, Resilient Decisions: Advancing OR Across the Asia-Pacific

Researchers in operational research, including academics, practitioners, postdoctoral fellows and PhD students, are warmly invited to submit an extended abstract (up to 2 pages) or a full paper (up to 15 pages) and to present their work at the conference.
